

Anyone remember STEPHEN 'Tin Tin' DUFFY, the electro-wizard who never quite managed to plug himself in? This week there was a bomb scare just outside his flat in Covent Garden and Duffy was unable to leave his flat for four hours. The good news is he used the time to pen a new tune 'An Angel Gets Its Wings'. The bad news is it's probably just as crap as all his other stuff.